

THE SOVRÈNE CODIX

Maison Sovrène®

Couture for the Soul

◆ OPENING ◆

*There are ways of living that cannot be explained.
Only recognized.*

A private house where identity is engineered, energetics are decoded, and the body becomes the most intelligent instrument you will ever lead from.

*What unfolds here is not found.
It is remembered.*

The House

Every woman who enters the Maison has lived a version of the same story.

She built what was expected. She exceeded every standard placed upon her. She was reliable, disciplined, always delivering, and somewhere along the way, she lost the thread of who she actually was beneath all of it.

Not because she failed. But because the world she was building in was never designed around who she truly is.

Maison Sovrène® was founded as a quiet resistance to that world.

A world that celebrates mass, noise and constant visibility. That confuses speed with progress, and presence with performance. Where everything is available, yet nothing feels truly nourishing.

We believe in depth over noise. In intentional action over constant availability. In legacy over volume. In savoring what you have built. We believe that time, wellbeing and privacy are the most precious luxury.

And we believe that a woman who has learned to inhabit her own life fully is more powerful than any strategy could ever make her.

The Maison exists for that woman. Not to fix what is broken. But to return what was never lost, only buried.

This is Couture for the Soul.

The Woman

She whispers first. When ignored, she speaks through the body. When silenced too long, she becomes impossible to ignore.

She was the woman who did everything right. Disciplined, reliable, always exceeding what was expected of her. From the outside, it worked. It made sense.

But somewhere along the way, she learned to perform instead of feel. To hold everything together while quietly disconnecting from herself. She became the good girl, pleasing, producing, always available, until she reached the moment where that way of living no longer fit.

The body knew first. It always does.

Then came the whisper. A quiet knowing that she is meant to live differently. That beneath the performance, beneath the pressure, beneath the version of her that learned how to succeed, there was someone else. Wilder. Wiser. More fully herself.

This is The Wild Sovrène.

THE WILD SOVRÈNE

She does not arrive loudly. She begins as a sensation. A restlessness. A sense that something essential is missing, even when everything looks right.

She no longer adapts to be chosen, but chooses. She no longer builds at the cost of herself, but from a place of self-possession. She refines what she allows: privacy over exposure, depth over noise, wellbeing over pressure.

She moves differently. She lingers, she savors, she moves through her life with intention, pleasure and precision.

*She is not someone to become.
She is someone to remember.*

The Journey

Every woman who enters the Maison is somewhere on this map. She may recognize one phase. She may recognize all of them. The journey is not linear. But it has a direction.

PHASE I

The Good Girl's Cage

She learned early that love, belonging and success required a certain version of herself. Disciplined. Pleasing. Always exceeding. She built from that version, and it worked. Until it didn't.

PHASE II

The Descent

Something stopped her. A body that refused to continue. A relationship that broke. A success that felt hollow. A quiet moment of recognition that she had gone too far from herself. This is not failure. This is the beginning.

PHASE III

The Wild Call

Beneath the exhaustion, something stirs. Sensation returns. Pleasure returns. Instinct returns. She begins to hear what she had silenced for years, the part of her that knows exactly who she is and what she wants.

PHASE IV

The Wild Sovrène Woman

She builds again, but differently. From clarity instead of pressure. From self-possession instead of performance. Her leadership becomes quieter, yet more powerful. Her standards become more precise.

PHASE V

The Integration

Wild and Sovrène, sensation and structure, pleasure and precision, are no longer opposites. They become one way of moving through the world. The most powerful woman is the most fully herself.

PHASE VI

The Sovrène Legacy

She stops building for approval and begins building for meaning. Her life becomes her signature, refined, intentional and unmistakably her own.

This is not a process to be completed. It is a standard to be lived.

The Method

Maison Sovrène® designs identity the way couture houses design garments, with refinement, precision and timeless intention. We blend embodied energetics, nervous system intelligence and high-end biofeedback into a new standard of feminine leadership.

Here, the body becomes your compass. Well-being becomes a standard. Pleasure becomes strategy. And leadership becomes art.

THE SOVRÈNE FRAMEWORK™ · SIX DIMENSIONS. ONE LIVING SYSTEM.

I · IDENTITY

Sovrène Identity

Who you are becoming, and the internal structure that makes it possible.

II · ENERGETICS

Embodied Energy

Your energetic field as intelligence. Feminine wisdom and intuition.

III · BODY

Body & Nervous System

The body as your most precise instrument. Somatic wisdom and biofeedback.

IV · LEADERSHIP

Leadership & Legacy

The shift from performing leadership to embodying it.

V · LIFE

Life Architecture

Savoir-vivre not as aesthetic, but as standard.

VI · RELATIONSHIPS

Relationships

The art of receiving, in love, in business, in life.

THE SIGNATURE TOOLS™

The Sovrène Embodied Channel™

Your body as the vessel of your deepest intelligence. Feminine energetics, intuition and somatic wisdom as a living source of guidance.

Sovrène Signal™

Biofeedback translated into energetic intelligence. Real-time insight into your inner state, precise, never generic.

The Sovrène Oracle™

AI-powered identity refinement, available between sessions. Your private mirror for clarity and self-concept.

Kairos Coding™

The art of aligned timing. Knowing when to move, when to be still, and how to create from your deepest rhythm.

The World

The Maison is not only a methodology. It is a world.

A world where nothing is rushed. Where time is not managed but savored. Where presence replaces pressure, and the senses are given space to lead. Where the body is not an afterthought, but the source. And life is no longer performed, but fully inhabited.

Within the world of Maison Sovrène®, women are invited into curated experiences that embody the standard the Maison stands for, in every detail, every moment, every carefully held space.

Private Sovrène Days

Fully private, immersive days of deep work and sensory refinement, held in carefully selected five-star settings. Where the work meets the world, and both are equally precise.

The Sovrène Retreat

Two to three days of deep work, pleasure and wellness, intimate, private and curated entirely by the Maison. A living experience of what it means to inhabit your life fully.

Inner Circle Dinner Series

Private gatherings for a select number of women, where conversation, connection and the art of being fully present come together. By invitation only.

Maison Sovrène® Events

Curated experiences in the luxury segment, where savoir-vivre, slow living and the Maison philosophy are woven into every moment.

Future experiences are being designed. Access is limited. And always intentional.

This is the Sovrène Map of Pleasure — not as indulgence, but as a way of being.

The Founder

She has lived every chapter of this journey.

Daniella Eikmans is a private advisor, former lawyer and relationship mediator with over 15 years of experience working in high-stakes, complex situations, at the intersection of law, leadership and the deeper patterns that shape how women live and lead.

She knows The Good Girl's Cage from the inside. She built two law firms. She ran at a pace that left no room for herself. And when her body finally stopped her, she understood that she had gone too far from who she truly was.

That moment became a vow. And that vow became the Maison.

Throughout her years of practice, she observed the same truth time and again: the presenting problem was rarely the real one. Beneath every professional challenge, every leadership pattern, every moment of misalignment, there was an identity at work.

She became convinced of one thing: you cannot grow your business, your leadership or your life beyond who you are on the inside. How you do one thing is how you do everything.

After years of extensive research and personal practice, she developed a proprietary system that brings together identity work, neuroscience, feminine energetics, biofeedback intelligence and the art of aligned timing.

Each field is powerful on its own. Together, they form something unprecedented. She sees what others miss. She says what others won't. And she holds the space with a precision that makes real change not just possible, but lasting.

With Maison Sovrène®, she brings to life a vision rooted in European luxury heritage, one that returns to what truly matters. Savoir-vivre. Slow living. Savoring every moment. Intimate, curated experiences that are couture for the soul.

Far from the mass, from constant visibility, from the noise of the world. A private, quietly extraordinary universe, designed entirely for the women who enter it.

*The work of Maison Sovrène® is proprietary, precise and deeply personal.
It was not designed. It was lived.*

*She is not guided toward a result.
She is received into a different standard of living, being, and becoming.*

*The Sovrène Legacy is not what she leaves behind.
It is how she chooses to live.
Fully. Precisely. And unmistakably her own.*

*Entering the Maison is a gift she gives herself.
For the woman who recognizes herself here —
and is ready to live accordingly.*
